Wine Menu

WHITE WINE

House White, Vermentino, "Vignes de L`eglise" (Languedoc, France)
Aromas of peach and melon. Ripe yet well balanced. Really nice wine and great value.

Sauvignon Blanc, "Wally" (Loire, France)

Vibrant and quaffable Sauvignon from the Loire, almost a mini Sancerre; hints of tropical fruit redolent of NZ Sauvignon, but with the classic grassiness of good Loire wine.

A Mano "Bianco" (Puglia, Italy)

A blend of the main South Italian varieties (Fiano, Falanghina, Greco) this is off dry and complex, great either as an aperitif or with food. Crisp and clean, medium bodied, pure aromas of peach and citrus, yet good body and minerality. Highly recommended.

Albarino, Martin Codax (Galicia, Spain)

Albarino from North West Spain is probably the best Spanish white wine. This is from the leading producer in the area, hints of passion fruit, pear and citrus. A lovely long fresh finish.

Gewurztraminer "Cave de Hunawihr" (Alsace, France)

Gewurtztraminer is known for its succulent tropical flavours and this excellent example from Alsace is no exception, but in this case is perfectly balanced by a mineral edge. We love this wine and happily drink it on its own or with food. Firmly in the medium band of the taste range, and will satisfy lovers of both sweet and dry wines.

Furleigh Estate, Pinot Noir 2015 (Salway Ash, Dorset, England)

A medium bodied oaked white with aromatic fruit. The aromas are pronounced with quince, apricot and candied peel plus a touch of honey. The finish is dry and long, excellent with chicken, fish and cheese

ROSE WINE

Pinot Grigio rose "Ponte Pietra" (Veneto, Italy)

This is very good wine, layered and fragrant with a complexity and sophistication well beyond its price. A lovely summer drink as an aperitif or with food.

RED WINE

House Red, Merlot/Grenache, "Vignes de L`eglise" (Languedoc, France)

Rich berry and plum aromas; soft smooth palate. Good wine, tremendous value.

Refosco, "Ponte del Diavolo" (Veneto, Italy)

Very pure wine from Northeast Italy. Light and quaffable. Refosco is a variety native to this area only and this is a high quality example. Spicy and brambly perfumes leading to a medium rounded palate of red fruit.

Rioja (unoaked), "Senorio de Unuela" (Spain)

An excellent good value Rioja, unoaked and youthful thus refreshing and fruit forward. Intense purple, classic Tempranillo red fruit and licorice on the palate and an elegant finish.

Shiraz/Viognier, "Willunga 100" (McLaren Vale, Australia)

Brilliant Aussie take on the classic Northern Rhone blend. Classic Shiraz aromas of dark berries, balanced by the zest and lift given by small amount of Viognier added. Fine tannins complete a high quality wine.

Pinot Noir "Glen Carlou" (Paarl, South Africa)

Glen Carlou is in the ownership of Hess Estates, and it shows in the quality of this wine which far outweighs its price. Starting with a lovely earthiness, this leads to a fuller than expected palate of great texture and a perfect balance between good levels of fruit and mild tannins. Superior to many mid price Burgundies.

SPARKLING WINE & CHAMPAGNE

Prosecco Superiore, Ca Morlin (Veneto, Italy)

A vibrant and grippy Prosecco, excellent.

Cremant de Bourgogne rose, Jean Charles Boisset (Burgundy, France)

Brilliant coral pink; soft and fragrant, perfumes of strawberry, long lasting mousse.

Furleigh Estate Classic Cuvee (Salway Ash, Dorset, England)

From West Dorset, a stunning sparkling wine to rival the best of France; this has won many prizes in competition against quality Champagnes. Rich, light, aromas of brioche. A long persistent finish.

A bottle of Mini Prosecco

DESSERT WINE

"The Welder", Chenin Blanc, Glen Carlou (37.5 cl) (Paarl, South Africa)

Sweetness balanced by a clean astringency. Flavours of apricot and apple.

A Mano, "Aleatico passito" (50 cl) (Puglia, Italy)

Perfume of dried cherries leading to luscious yet nicely balanced fruit. Dark red, delightful.
